

Vermont Food Security: Roadmap to 2035

Authors and Contributors

The Vermont Food Security: Roadmap to 2035 is based on ideas, expertise, and effort from people in every county of Vermont. Over 600 people in Vermont took the time to interview people, research, write, organize, advise, and assist in many ways with this complex project. Many participants who gave advice through interviews, focus groups, and/or surveys remain anonymous. Below, we list and appreciate the authors and contributors who created the Roadmap, including general categories of anonymous contributors. We apologize for any errors or omissions.

We thank all of those who contributed their time and knowledge.
